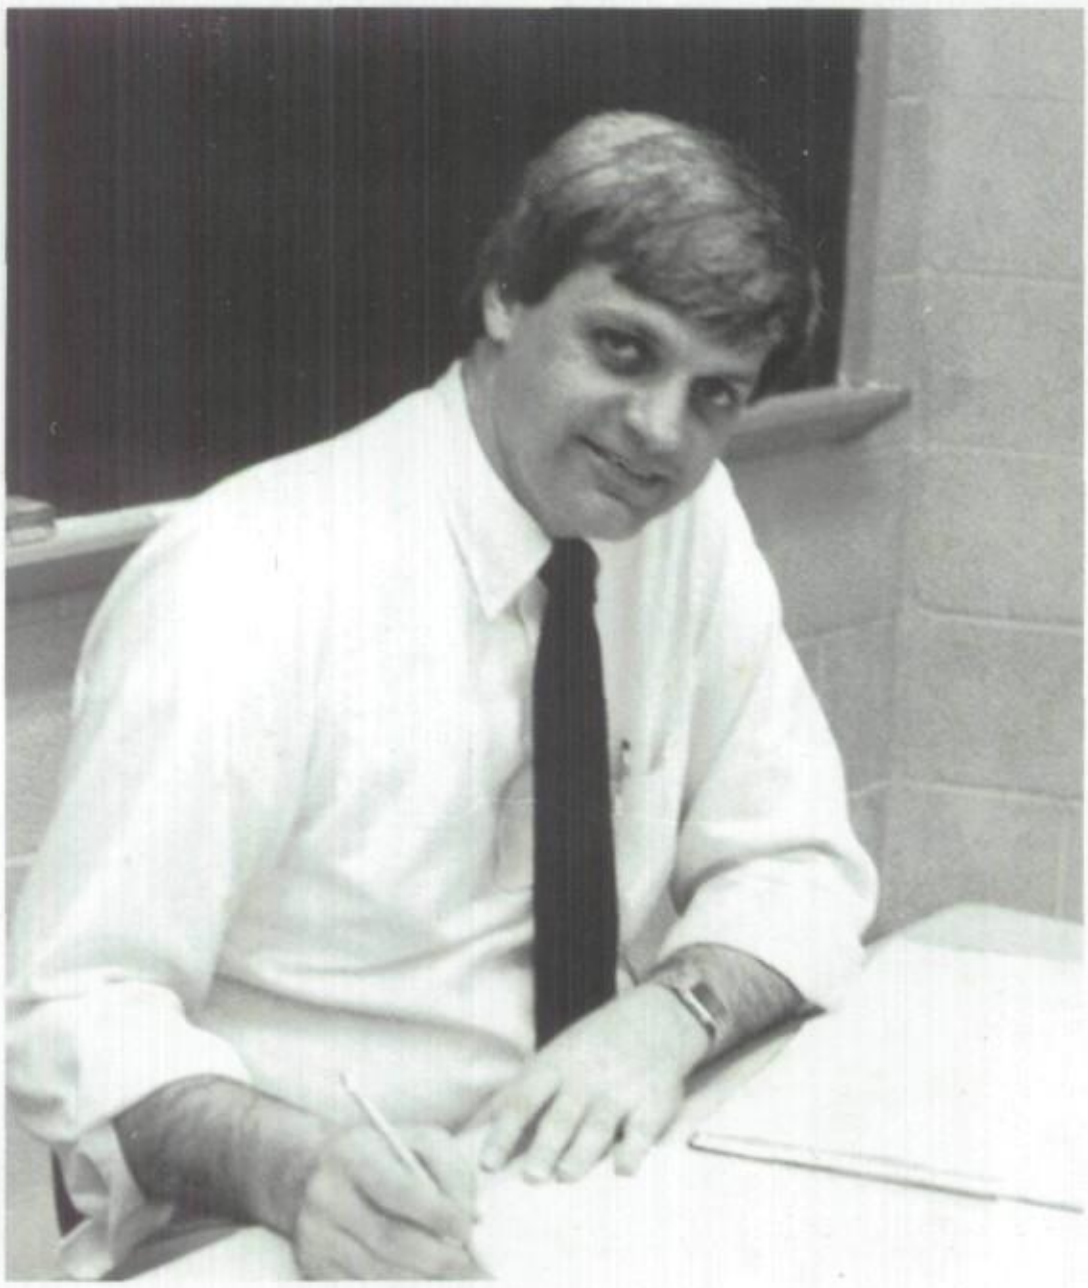
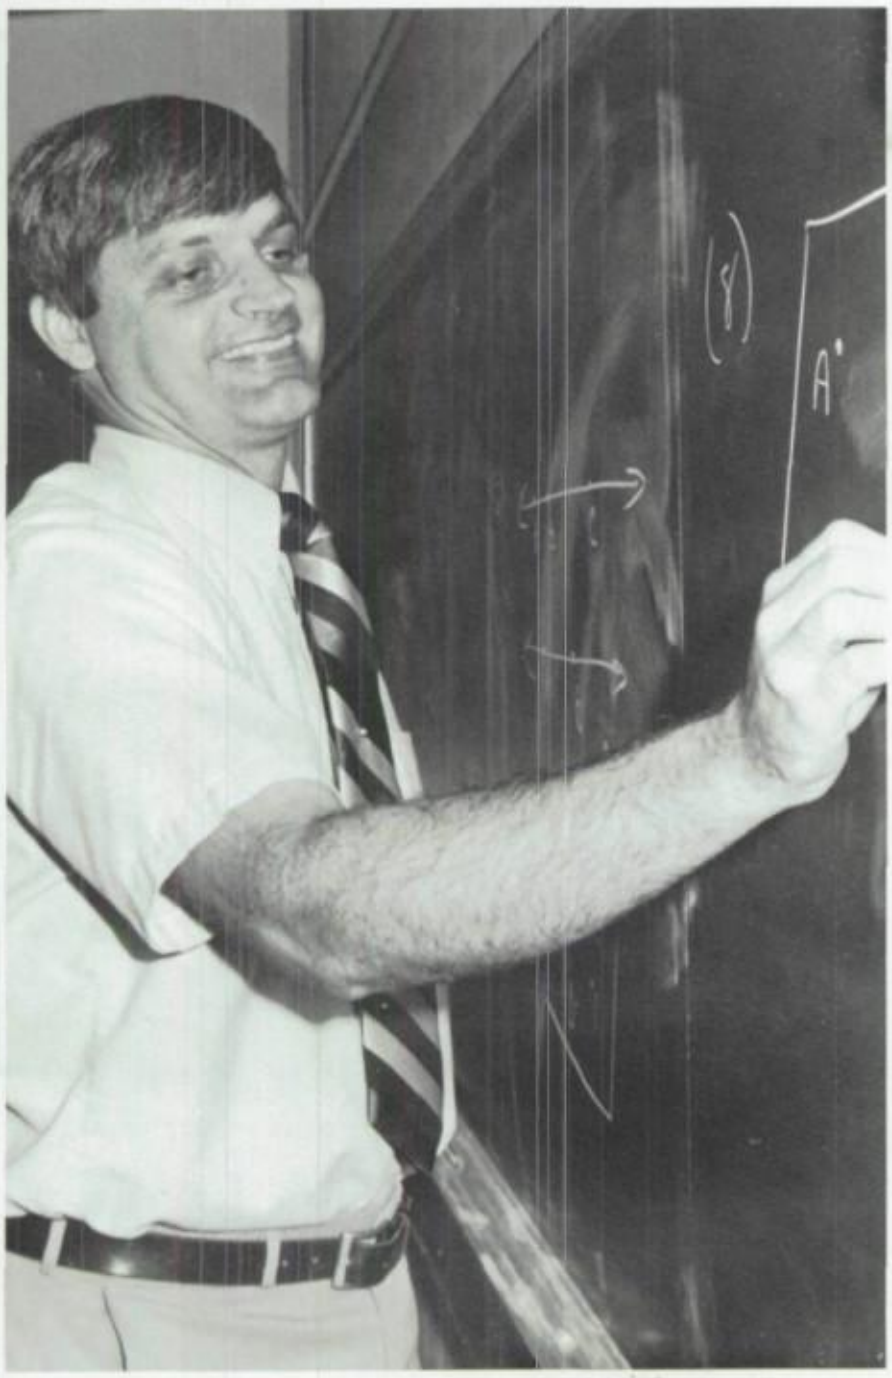
Final Note 160





Throughout our school years we have had many teachers. There are a select few whom we remember as ideal teachers and admirable human beings. Today we honor a man who gains respect from his students and athletes just by the example he gets. Always a perfect gentleman, he gives freely of his time to ensure that each student fully understands the lessons he has taught.

A graduate of Pottstown High School and later Albright College, he returned to his Alma Mater in 1968 to teach mathematics. He coached baseball from 1968 to 1976 and basketball from 1970 to 1976. From 1977 to 1982 he proved to be one of the most popular, highly respected athletic directors in the Ches-Mont league. This year he returned to coaching basketball once again.

After twenty years of instructing, in the classroom he is helpful and understanding; on the court he is not only a coach but also a friend. He leads by example. He uses his coaching skills in teaching and his teaching skills in coaching.

He is a winner!

We are proud to dedicate the 1987 Troiad to . . .

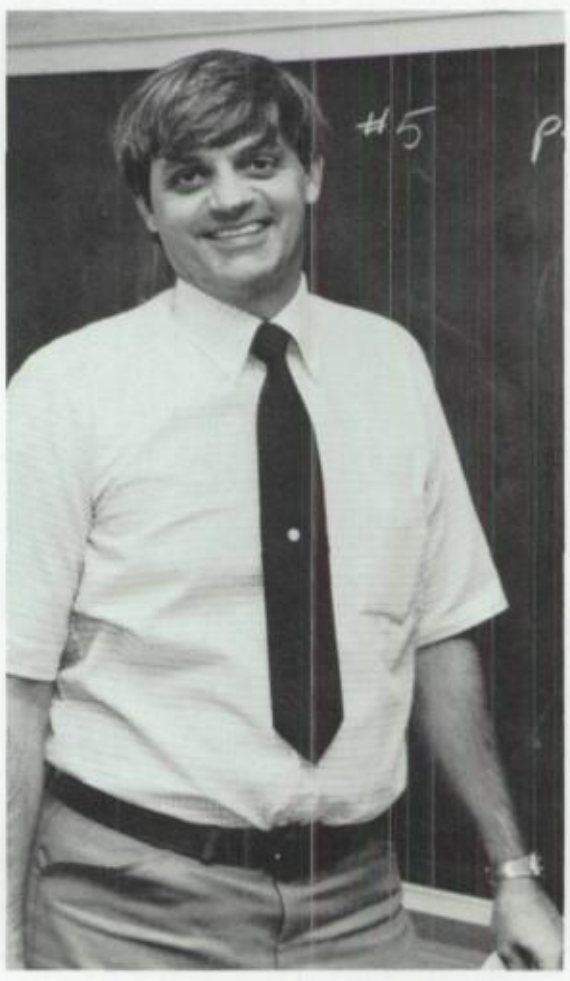
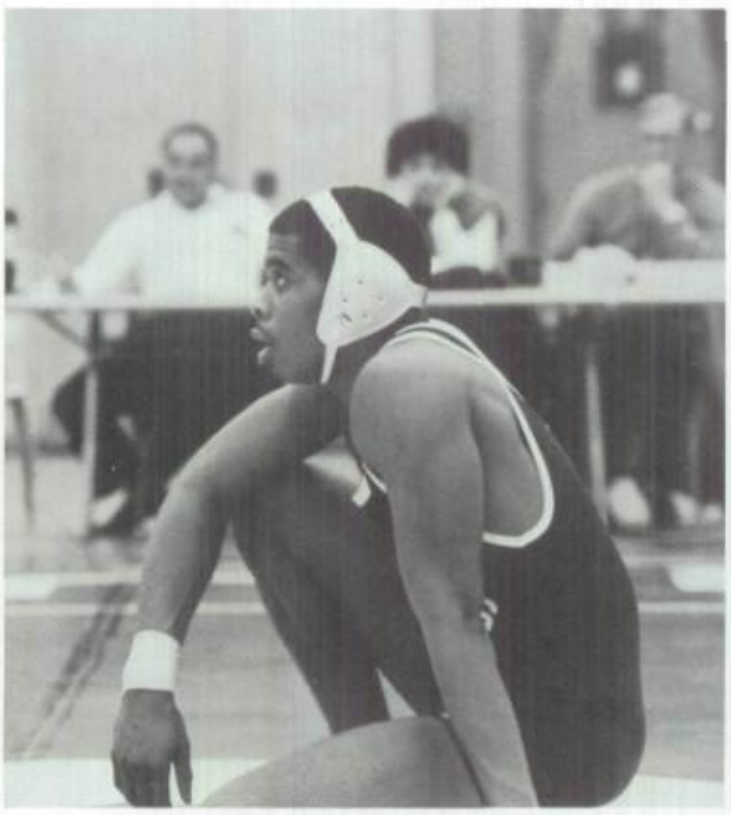
Ronald A. Hallman



The Class of 1987 is the one hundred seventh class to be graduated by Pottstown High School. Blue and white have been the school colors from the beginning, but just fifty years ago the Trojan became the school emblem, and the Troiad became the name of the yearbook. The 1987 Troiad is the fiftieth volume, and the gold on its cover symbolizes its golden anniversary.

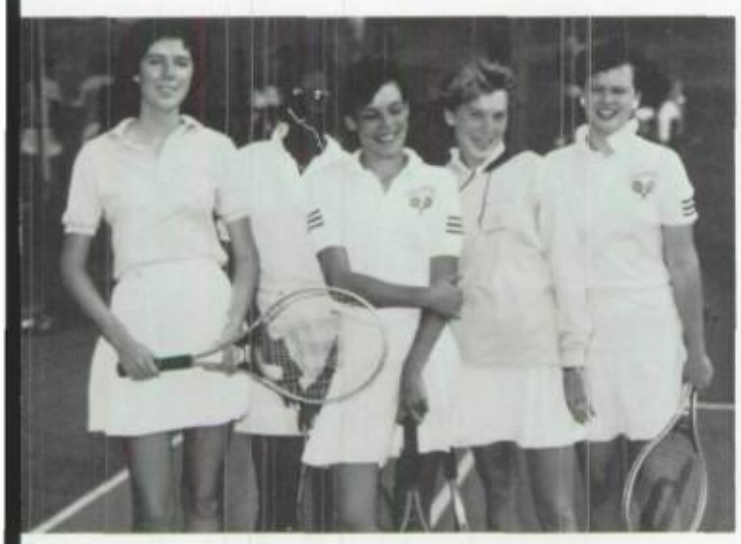
The fifty Troiads record the changes that have taken place in the school and the student body over five decades. It is fitting that this volume observes the changes of 1987.

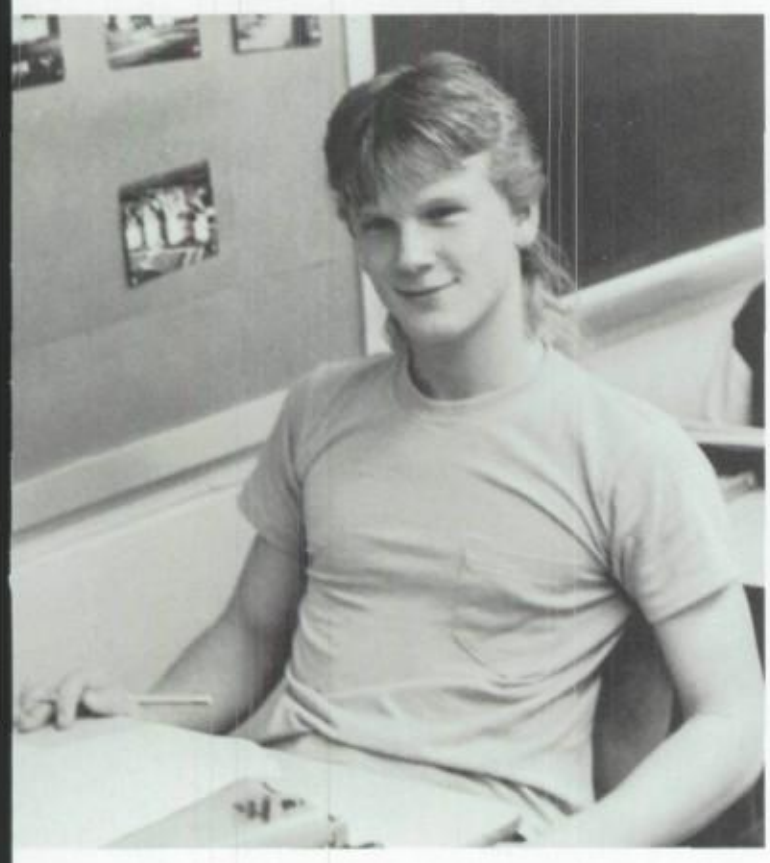
The academic program changes . . . high technology . . . new methods of handling data and communication through computers . . . word processors . . . machines. New machines and new courses to teach their use enter each year. Education struggles to keep up with technology.



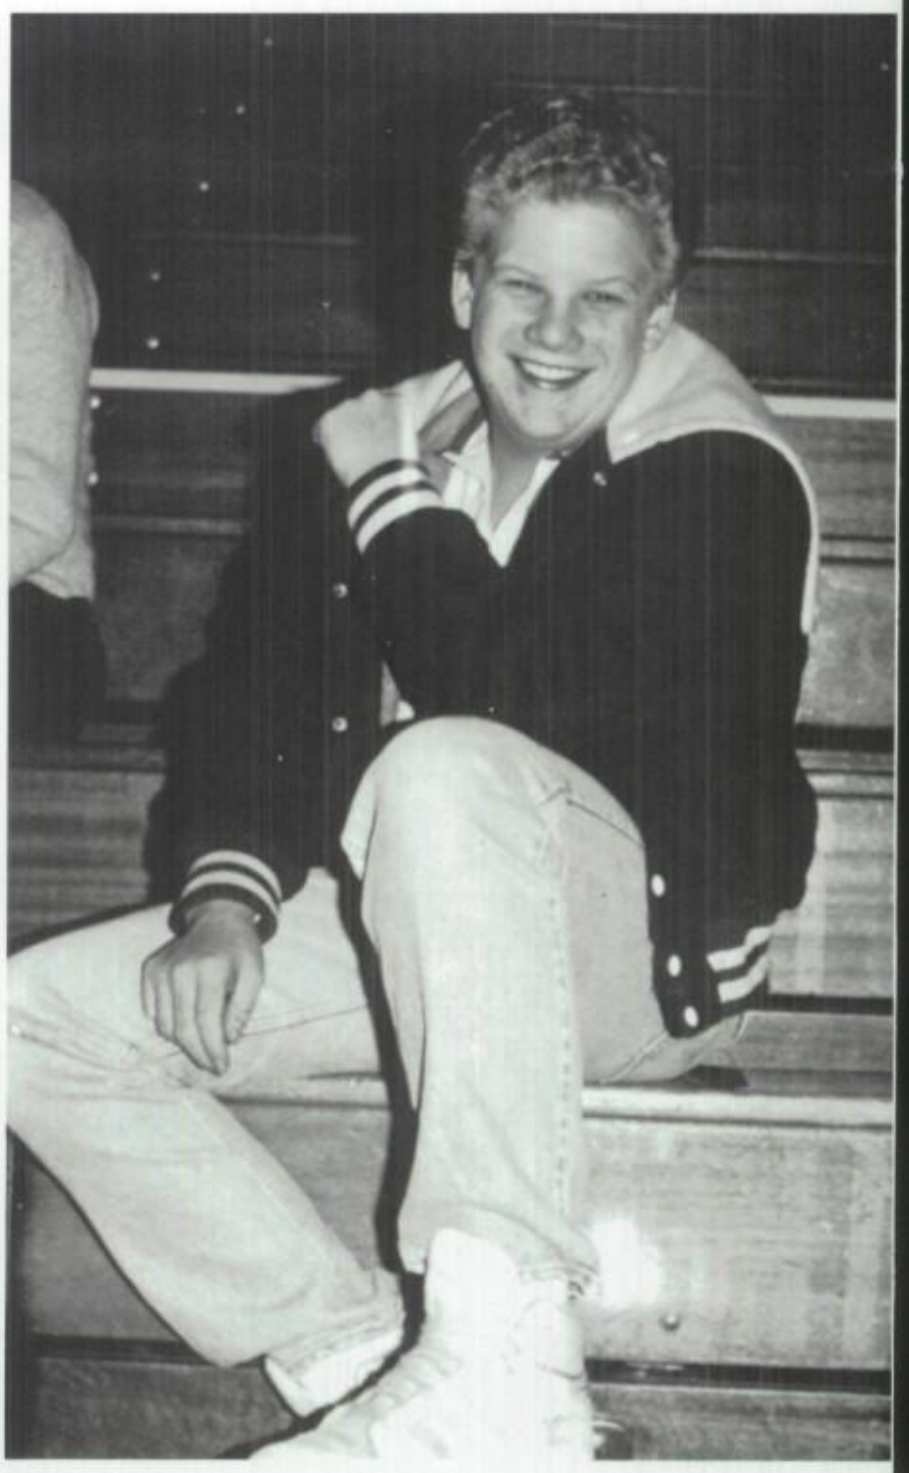
The athletic program changes. This year was the first year of membership in the new Pioneer Athletic Conference. Hopefully, this change will bring about equitable competition and will stress a spirit of friendship with neighboring schools.

The faces change . . . classes enter and classes are graduated. Freshmen want desperately to be accepted. Freshmen are nervous, lost, cocky, shy . . . scared.





They change. They do become seniors . . . seniors who are self-confident, more considerate, more understanding . . . but still just a little scared of life after graduation.



Amid the change some things must remain constant . . . the blue and white uniforms . . . the Trojan . . . the Alma Mater . . . Pomp and Circumstance . . . the Mantle Ceremony . . . traditions shared by fathers and sons.

After one hundred years of change . . . the school remains.

Many Diverse Courses Encourage Broad Education

Pottstown Senior High School, one of the very few comprehensive high schools in Pennsylvania, offered a wide variety of courses to the student body. Pottstown High School's diversified courses were designed to meet the needs of the entire range of students who attended. Students could choose college preparatory, vocational education, and business education as well as numerous electives.

The college preparatory course was designed to prepare students for additional education after high school. Students who took this course were encouraged to use the skills of problem solving and reasoning. They were taught methods of research and experimentation. Special courses in advanced biology were offered as well as honors English, calculus, and trigonometry. Approximately 19 percent of the students were enrolled in college prep.

Business education students made up 24 percent of the student body. There were four areas of business ed: secretarial, accounting, clerical, and data processing. Students enrolled in these courses learned the skills they will need when they obtain jobs in the business world. The data processing center received five new computers, and the business department received approximately thirty new typewriters to replace older models. The new machines were used by all business education students.

The vocational education program was one of the strong points of Pottstown High. Students could choose from eight areas: machine shop, automotive shop, building trades, appliance repair, health assistance, electronics, drafting, and cosmetology. Approximately 34 percent of the students were in vocational education. Every shop tried to keep abreast of changing technology.

Special services were provided to meet the needs of all the students as well as the needs of students with special talents or special problems. Physical education helped students obtain physical fitness. Home economics, art, music, industrial arts, special education, library services were provided.

Pottstown's comprehensive program gave students an all-inclusive education and prepared them for school, jobs, military service, and good community citizenship.

Troiad Records Changes of '87

The 1987 Troiad editorial staff produced a book which they felt best exemplified the Tale of the Trojans. It was a long and complicated process but we finally completed the book which everyone would receive on that special day in May.

Inside our little Activity Room we considered ourselves to be one big family. We took the oath of silence, discussing our ideas and decisions in total confidence. We shared our croppers, grease pencils, and pictures. Our spare change went into the doughnut box, and our true creativity came through on our daily logs.

The business staff played a major part in the yearbook. Thanks to their endless search for patrons on their personal time, the seniors were able to see themselves in full color for the first time. The skillful typists contributed time and effort to the senior section. Our most dedicated advisors, Mrs. Elizabeth Huddy and Mr. Robert Kovach, provided the guidance, patience, and understanding we needed.

We sincerely hope that everyone enjoys this book today and in the years to come.

P.H.S. News Keeps Up With Changing Times

Early in the year the posters and announcements started as the first issue of P.H.S. News was being constructed. It sounded routine, but the P.H.S. News was going through as much change as anyone.

This year's staff took on a wide range of subjects. The editorial page tackled many controversial issues ranging from freedom of speech to the selection of the school's band uniforms. The sports page reported on the newly formed PAC 8 league, drug testing, and school sports. The feature page did student spotlights which highlighted academic and athletic achievements, reviews of records and television, and an advice column called Dear Xavier. The news page reported on everything important and eventful which affected our school.

The staff itself went through changes. Its membership was greatly increased to a well rounded staff. The position of editor-in-chief was brought back this year and was filled by Richard Sommers. The page editors were Matthew Lessig and Randall Smith, news page; Dave Koren, editorial page; Kris Sotter and Kathy Iswalt, feature page; and Christopher Mowery, sports page. The staff was advised by Mrs. Joanne Swavely; the business staff was under the direction of Mr. Alfred Hubbs.

As always, the staff kept P.H.S. students up to date on everything important or amusing happening around the school.

Key Club Gains High Standards and New Activities

Years ago the Key Club was comprised of males with high academic and social standards. This group served their home, school, and community with support from the Kiwanis Club. During the past year the club made improvements to regain those high standards.

The prospective members, both male and female, submitted their applications, report cards, and teacher recommendations to the board. This board, which included the officers, class representatives, and committee chairmen, approved 68 applicants to become members. The members were informed that they had to attend at least two meetings and participate in activities each month. These changes were made so that each member would be an active member.

The homecoming committee organized a beautiful ceremony during the half-time of the football game with SpringFord. The 1985 queen, Jessica Monteleone, crowned a very surprised Noelle Bender as the 1986 queen.

The club held a very successful ten hour dance marathon to raise funds for the Youth Serves Youth project, the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind. Thirty-one members danced until dawn to raise approximately $900.

Under the leadership of president Randy Smith, vice-president Greg Deegan, secretary Stacey Brown, treasurer Betsy Cehlar, sergeant-at-arms Sean Zerbey, the club arranged and participated in activities to benefit the school and community. The club was honored to have the lieutenant governor of District 19, Kris Sotter, go up in their ranks. With her help Key Clubs were organized in other schools.

To promote the international theme, the club instituted a program to get to know and to help the elderly in our community. For several hours each week members visited the residents of the Leader Nursing Home.

The year was highlighted by the Pennsylvania District Convention at Hershey Hotel and Convention Center from March 6 to 8. Members entered the scrapbook, talent, and oratorical contests. The club enjoyed the enlightening and entertaining weekend.

The Anchor Club, a girls' service organization for the school and community, began with a change. Two new advisors, Mrs. Gail Levengood and Mrs. Rita Cohen, were warmly welcomed. The newly elected officers were president Pam Williams, vice-president Kathy Iswalt, treasurer Hope Valentine, and secretary Nicole Katzenbach. The club consisted of approximately 44 girls in 10th, 11th and 12th grades. The new members were traditionally initiated by being "slaves for a day."

The girls began with a fundraiser of candle sales which was very successful. They sold mums at Thanksgiving and Valentine's Day. They helped with the Marine Corps Toys for Tots drive during the Christmas season. They went caroling at the Leader Home before their annual Christmas party.

Throughout the year the girls helped with many activities. They served as ushers and hostesses at banquets, concerts, and Commencement.

At the end of the year the Spanish Award was given to the senior who was most deserving.

Thirteen members made up the Latin Club. Organizations Use Talents To Benefit School

The Honor Society, advised by Mr. John Armato, followed past years' fund raising patterns by selling M&M's. The sale proved successful and raised enough money to hold the annual banquet at the end of the year for senior members.

The Ski Club was organized by Mr. Bryan Rendina and Mr. Donald House. They sold corduroy ski caps with the Ski Club logo on them. The club skied at least one night a week throughout the ski season.

The Art Club was led by Mrs. Eva Yashinsky. They planned many activities for the year, but their main goal was to put on an Evening of the Arts. This included individual art displays and demonstrations by art club members.

They also planned for an art book which published students' work.

The stage crew, a student service organization led by Mr. Steven Lloyd, continued their much appreciated good job. They were responsible for operating the film projectors and lights and setting the stage for assemblies. They operated the sound system during pep rallies and set up for various activities in the school.

Students Seek a Beautiful Future in Cosmetology

The Cosmetology Club was a three year program advised by Mrs. Donna Carpenter. The thirty-two students met in the cosmetology suite either in the morning or afternoon. They spent part of their 1250 mandatory hours studying and part of their time gaining experience. They gained their experience because cosmetology was a full service clinic. It was open to the general public as well as to the student body.

Gathering this experience helped the students prepare for state boards in April, which the students were encouraged to take. Those who passed state boards received operators' licenses. If a student chose not to use her education in cosmetology immediately, she can get her license back sometime in the future. If she waits more than five years, she will be required to take her state board again.

Student Organizations Serve P.H.S. With Pride

The student government under the leadership of Mr. Keith Grant began the new year with an election of officers. The newly elected officers were president Lydia Douglass, vice-president Hope Valentine, treasurer Stacey Brown, and secretary Barb Brown. The organization sponsored and helped with many activities in the school and community. The PIPPS float was decorated by students for the annual Halloween parade, and a candy sale was held in December. Meetings were held throughout the year in the Audion Room.

The Pottstown High School Bank was organized by Mr. Davidheiser, Sheila Miller, and Denise Lenhardt. The bank handled all cash receipts and cash payments of every student organization in the school. The bank kept complete financial records for all organizations.

The A.A. store, a non-profit organization, was sponsored by Mr. Lawrence Harvey. The store was open after school to enable students to purchase candy, notebooks, backpacks, and school supplies. The store sponsored athletes and students of-the-week to recognize outstanding individuals.

The Girls Leader Corps, advised by Miss Gene Whistler, helped the gym classes. The G.L.C. consisted of girls in grades ten through twelve who participated in at least one athletic sport and maintained a grade average of C or better. The G.L.C. was a service organization to help the gym teachers.

Vocalists Harmonize To Create a Great Chorus

The Pottstown High School chorus, a group of diverse students under the direction of Mrs. Sally Allebach, provided many entertaining concerts for the school and community. The members from all the curricula sacrified much time and energy to acquire the skills needed for a great chorus. The showchoir and the women's ensemble, smaller choral groups, were created for those students who wanted to express their talents fully.

The showchoir, which sings and dances, performed contemporary tunes at the jazz band concert and at many community club meetings. The women's ensemble, a group of girls who sang soprano and alto four part harmony, performed at the Christmas and spring concerts. Both groups sacrificed time to practice during lunch periods and after school.

Mrs. Allebach hoped that the chorus will continue to grow so that a select choir can be formed and so that the general chorus can master more interesting and complicated material.

P.H.S. Band Enjoys Another Successful Year

Beginning in August and practicing un- the end of school in June, the 1987 nd completed another successful year. he bands of past years have built a win- ng reputation, and this band was no ception.

The band began the year with a third ace finish at the Downingtown valcade of Bands. They captured cond place at the cavalcade at West hester State University. They proceed- to the SpringFord cavalcade where ey put on a very respectable show, ceiving an excellent rating. At the Her- ey Championships in Hershey, Penn- lvania, they put on another stellar per- rmance. Although they finished venth in a field of sixteen, they beat many bands of much greater size.

The band performed its usual holiday concerts. The indoor guard and indoor twirlers put on many sparkling performances during the winter competitive season. The jazz band did many shows and performed at competitions also.

The band was under the direction of Mr. Charles Dressler, who has been director for the past six years. In this relatively short time he has made the band one of the best in the area. He teaches not only music but also pride, respect, and sportsmanship.

The departing senior members thank Mr. Dressler sincerely for the help that he has given them. Their days in band will be fondly remembered.

Until two years ag plays were produced by classes; for example, senior class plays, junior class plays, etc. Beginning in 1987, the plays were all-school plays. This change allowed more o portunity for all students to try out and participate in the drama program of the school. The all-school play was directed by Mrs. Liane Heydt, assisted by Mr. Nelso Burnett. The comedy-drama Night of January 16th was an innovative experience for both the actors and the audiences. The play dealt with the famous murder of Bjor Fraulkuer. It took place in the court room where the defendant Karen Andre was being tried. The play ended with a twist. Members of the audience were selected to be th jury. The actors learned two different endings because they did not know which verdict the jury would render. The play was a success with both students and audiences.

Victory Changes Girls' Outlook

Captain Pam Whalen serves a winning point.

This was a year of changes. There was a new coach, new players, and a new league. Miss Elaine Ellison accepted the job of head coach with great enthusiasm. Assisted by the two returning players, Pam Whalen and Betsy Cehlar, Miss Ellison taught the new girls the skills and strategies that were needed to have a winning team. Composed of two seniors, three juniors, five sophomores, and six freshmen, the team practiced on their serves, net play, and lobs. They had a new feeling of team spirit that guided them to many individual wins in the beginning of the season.

The team was a member of the Pioneer Athletic Conference for the first year. They played each of the other schools in the league twice during the season. This helped the players get to know their opponents better and allowed them to play against schools of equal size.

The team was deeply saddened when one of their varsity players, Tracey Haring, was seriously injured and could not return for the rest of the season. The team then reorganized and put their complete concentration on their matches.

Finally all their hard work paid off. The Trojan netters edged Perkiomen Valley to break a three year losing streak. This victory during the last week of the season ended a great building year for the team.

Trojans Battle Through Inaugural PAC-8 Season

After more than three decades of great competition, the highly regarded Ches-Mont League was partially dismantled. Five former Ches-Mont members — Pottstown, Pottsgrove, Phoenixville, St. Pius X, and SpringFord — along with Upper Perkiomen, Perkiomen Valley, and Lansdale Catholic combined to form the new Pioneer Athletic Conference — PAC 8. Athletes, coaches, and fans debated the decision because they respected the outstanding tradition of Ches-Mont sports. But the new PAC-8 conference consisted of schools of approximately equal size. This equality should allow athletes to compete more fairly.

The 1986 Trojan football team was an unusual group of players. They had great speed, tremendous strength, and size. Their only weakness was their inconsistency. In the first five weeks of the season the team members, and everyone else, believed that the Trojans were going to have a remarkably good season. The scoreboard confirmed this as the Blue and White rolled to a 4-1 mark. Their four victories included a 21-14 decision over Holy Name, a 27-0 thrashing of the Bears in Boyertown, a 21-19 thriller at Upper Perkiomen, and a hard fought 14-6 verdict over Pottsgrove. The only blemish was a 22-21 last-second loss to Coatesville.

The rest of the season the Trojans could salvage only one of the six games with a win over Perkiomen Valley 20-6. The other five games their inconsistency dealt them losses at the hands of SpringFord 20-0, Phoenixville 21-19, St. Pius X 26-3, Lansdale Catholic 28-0, and Owen J. Roberts 7-0. The season left the Trojans with a 5-6 record.

Although the Trojans ended their season with a loss to Owen J. Roberts, they could be proud of the game they played. They played the nationally ranked Wildcats evenly until Roberts broke a big touchdown play with two minutes left in the game.

Harriers Are New Force to Be Reckoned With

The Pottstown harriers coached by Mr. Lawrence Harvey had a winning season of 9-2. The harriers, led by captain Joel Pollock and three strong leaders — Mike Rasy, Jeff Hall, and Anthony Jones — finished high in the new PAC-8 league. The Trojans hosted their first invitational and took first out of seven teams. Max Llaudes, a foreign exchange student from Spain who had never run cross country before, and Jeff Hall added new power. Kelly Koch was the only girl participant.

The team ended its season on a good note with Anthony Jones and Jeff Hall making States where Jeff finished very well in 18th place.

The Trojans gained much respect this year in the newly organized Pioneer Athletic Conference.

Golf Gains Valuable Experience

The 1986 golf team was coached by Mr. Kenneth Davis. The team consisted of 10 participants who started practicing in the middle of August. They ended their season with a record of 1 win and 14 losses. It was a very tough season for the team, who lost four matches by less than three strokes. The young team gained much experience and should do well next season. Steve Byrne, Robert McConnell, and Steve Groff were three of the outstanding golfers. Steve Groff made Districts and was chosen for the PAC 8 second team.

Winning Ways Continue as Trojans Win Second Half

The word win means a great deal to the people of Pottstown. The Trojan basketball team knew this and have continually proven in years past that they can qualify for the respect of their town and for the respect of their rivals. This year's team was no exception. The cagers went into the newly established PAC-8 optimistically.

Aided by six seniors, three juniors, and three sophomores, the Trojans finished with a 15-8 record. Pottstown was coached by Mr. Ken Davis and his assistants Mr. Ronald Hallman and Mr. Michael Missimer. Co-captains Matt Swartz and Steve Valentine led the way while seniors Darrin Harris, Randy Hawkins, and junior Jon Thorpe completed the starting rotation. Other key players were Shawn Conbeer, Rob Harner, Bryan Burton, London Leisure, Steve Schmidt, Chris Jackson, and Jon Dabney.

Pottstown started their season with a win in the Lancaster Tournament by defeating Lancaster 69-65. Then they took an 84-55 beating from a powerful York Catholic team. After a win versus Owen J. Roberts, the Trojans suffered two consecutive losses, including their first PAC-8 game against SpringFord. They rebounded with a win versus Phoenixville. However, at the Holy Name Tournament, the defending champions were once again stopped by Holy Name after a win against Wyomissing. Heading into the Pottsgrove game, Pottstown's record was 5-5. Against Pottsgrove the Trojans disappointed the home crowd as the Falcons won 52-43. Pottstown turned themselves around after this setback and won their last three games of the first half and posted a 4-3 mark in the PAC-8.

The Trojans went into the second half with little anticipation. They defeated SpringFord, Phoenixville, and Upper Perk. They played their arch-rival Pottsgrove and revenged their loss with an exciting 52-47 victory. After crushing Perk Valley 83-45, the Trojans destroyed home town rival Pius 60-44. The last game of the second half wa against Lansdale Catholic. For th Crusaders the game was a must win t force the undefeated Trojans into a ti breaking second half championshi game. In a nail-biting overtime thrille Lansdale Catholic delayed the Trojans title hopes, winning by a score of 56-53 The Trojans defeated Lansdale Catholi clinching the second half title and pittin them in a championship game with firs half winner Pottsgove.

The challenge between the two team could not have been better for the firs PAC-8 championship playoff. While sold out crowd watched the two foes ba tle it out in an overtime frenzy, a last se cond shot by Pottsgrove's Jeff Roesene put an unbelievable climax to a gam that will long be remembered as one o the most disappointing losses ever.

The Trojans went in District playoff with a 15-8 overall record and with th hopes to meet Pottsgrove once again.

The J.V.'s looked hopeful by posting 13-1 mark at the year's end.

Trojan Grapplers Pin Down First PAC-8 Crown

The Trojan grapplers took the PAC-8 eague title with ease. They compiled a 7-0 league record and won the controversial inaugural league tournament to end ll doubts of who the champions would e. Although the team began with two arly season losses, they surpassed all heir early roadblocks and stormed to 15 traight wins to compile an overall record f 16-2. The Trojans convincingly mauled heir opponents who averaged only 14 oints per match to Pottstown's impressive average 45. In their dual match eason they defeated all the Ches-Mont teams except Downingtown, whom they did not wrestle. But the Trojans had their chance to show their strength at the sectional tournament at Downingtown High School.

The squad had several individual standouts, but what really made the team great was their total effort and sacrifices for the good of the team. The team was anchored by seven seniors in the varsity lineup. These were Mike Kornoski, Kevin Clifford, Troy Beasley, John Karpinski, Jason Foulkes, Adam Gibbs, and Mark Keller. Several sophomores adding to the cause were Chris Ruyak, Larry Wallace, Tom Medvetz, Brian Campbell, and Job Price.

Several individuals captured two first place finishes in the Coatesville Christmas tournament. These were Tom Medvetz, Troy Beasley, John Karpinski, and Adam Gibbs.

The team was one of the best squads to pass through the Pottstown program, but without the careful molding of the coaches the team would not have accomplished what it did.

'87 Girls Lacrosse Team Stays A Step Ahead

The Lacrosse team under the fourth year coaching of Mrs. Mary Powell began their practices on March second. The players were again faced with early March weather, sprints, and plenty of drills. Running the "course," running through mud, and strategic plays became a major part of practice under the watchful eyes of Mrs. Powell and new assistant coach Mrs. Mary O'Donnell. The team concentrated on cradling, dodging, and working together as a team.

March 17 the season began and the Lady Trojans were enthusiastic for their upcoming games against some challenging teams in the newly formed PAC-8 league.

The Trojanettes had five returnin seniors — Stacie Barndt, Barb Brown Cherylette Hewlett, Michelle Siwik, an Angie Sunday. The freshmen once agai were coached by Miss Marci Mariani.

'87 Boys Tennis Hopes to Net a Winning Season

The 1987 tennis team hit the courts in early March to begin practice. Fundamentals of the game were stressed in the hope of producing a competitive team.

The team was coached by second year coach Mr. Dalton Fine. In past years recruiting players was a problem, but this year 17 players participated.

Six veteran players — Mike Discuillo, Steve Groff, Joel Pollock, Charles Means, Dennis Pringle, and Al Carrasquillo — returned to give the team the depth to compete in the PAC-8 league. The season consisted of two dual matches with each league team. Toward the end of the season individual competitions were featured in the PAC-8 singles tournament and the PAC-8 doubles tournament.

Trojans Strive to Score in Pac-Eight Baseball

The 1987 Trojan baseball team entered the season with aspirations of once again being contenders for the crown. Having missed the 1986 playoffs by one win, the Trojans hoped to take the PAC-8 by storm in '87 with five returning seniors: Doug Stevens, Matt Swartz, Ken Lee, John Karpinski, and Ed Staniszewski. Led by Coach William Kerr, Pottstown was ready to jump into its 18 game schedule, facing formidable foes such as Boyerstown, Coatesville, Phoenixville, Pius, and Spring-Ford. The Trojans hoped that by May 21 they would be fighting for the championship in the PAC-8 playoffs.

The jayvees were coached by Mr. Barry Swartz, and the freshmen were coached by Mr. Frank Dakota. The younger Trojans learned the rudiments and strived for excellence.

Trojan Track Team Has Good Outlook On Season

The Pottstown boys' track team entered the new PAC-8 league this year. The team had many quality people in each event. The team was very competitive because they worked hard and kept a positive attitude. The league was not as "tough" as the Ches. Mont league but it proved to be a challenge to the Trojans.

Winter track was brought back to keep the athletes in shape for the spring season. They competed in indoor meets and were very successful.

After a hiatus of several years girls' track was organized again this year, and twenty girls turned out to participate.

Mr. Daniel Weller was the head coach of the boys' team; he was assisted by Mr. Michael Riley. Miss Elaine Ellison returned to coach the girls' team.

Scared, Lost Freshmen Change to Confident Trojans

The 1986-87 school year was a year of change for the freshmen. Moving from the junior high to the senior high was not as big a move as some freshmen anticipated, although they probably could not have been convinced of that on the first day of school. It was easy for the upperclassmen to tell exactly who the freshmen were. We were the ones walking into the wrong classes. Half of the class were getting lost. The other half had their faithful handbooks and maps of the school in their hands. We were the ones with the terrified looks on our faces. We worried about our studies, about our classes, about our friends, and most of all, those terrible freshman stories. We soon realized school wasn't as bad as the stories were. Within a few weeks we signed up for sports and clubs. We found that the people of whom we were once afraid were now the friends on whom we rely.

Sophomores Get the Swing of High School Life

The sophomores finally got into the swing of being in senior high. Now that we were no longer freshmen, we could look forward to our upperclass years. The class advisors were Mr. Daryl Saylor and Mr. Bryan Rendina. The officers were president Shannon Bullick, vice-presidents Krista Hillegass and Lynee Toth, secretary Jen Keeler, and treasurer Dania Clayton. The year flew by quickly, but the memories of Mr. Hallman's geometry tests, Mr. Cressman's vocabulary quizzes, biology labs, Mr. Kerr' s lectures, and all the e: citing sports events stayed. As the day of the 1986-87 school year wound down there were not too many complaints. A we walked out the front doors, we left a ticipating the years to come.

Juniors Enjoy the Privileges of Upperclassmen

As the Class of '88 took up the name of upperclassmen, they faced a long list of new challenges. They faced physics, trig, hygiene, and longer term papers. They were faced with the task of running the Square, cramming for midterms and finals. They accepted with pride their Homecoming representatives Jeannette Wack and Beth Bauer. Some experienced the glory and excitement of the Prom; others took the dreaded SATs.

The class was well advised by Mr. Deane Cressman and Mrs. Mary Markley. The class president for the third year was Diana Magliocchetti. Stacey Brown held the office of vice-president for the third year. Jeannette Wack was newly elected to the office of secretary and Kathy Iswalt once again held the office of treasurer.

As June arrived they accepted the Mantle with pride and enthusiasm. The year was over but the memories lived on. The Class of '88 were seniors.

The Senior Class Show Their True Colors

We were the Class of '87. We led the school in all its activities during the year and showed our school colors at pep rallies and sporting events; some of us even dyed our hair. We were a special and sometimes strange group known as "the seniors."

When we entered the high school, the class was comprised of brains, jocks, preps, and rebels. These groups tried to retain their special characteristics while they "learned the ropes" from the upperclassmen.

Many students became History Day winners, All Ches-Mont players, Pac-8 leaders, great musicians, and skilled artists while maintaining good grades and learning their trades. Auto shop students participated in a stock car race, and members of the FHCC planned the Health Fair. We were led by two great presidents, Hope Valentine and John Karpinski, as we progressed to becoming seniors.

In our final year we were guided by Mr. Baver and supported by Mr. Burnley and Mrs. Wells, as we traveled to Florida, planned the Prom, and applied to colleges. As June approached, we discussed our best memories of PHS and realized that we were no longer a class of brains, jocks, preps, and rebels; we had become a class of friends.

OFFICERS: FIRST ROW: Vice-presidents Sheri Kabilko and John Karpinski, president Hope Valentine. S
COND ROW: treasurer Pam Whalen, secretary Cornell Wrisby.
